

Letitia Charbonneau: Letitia with SCAN Ottawa, still recovering from Sept 20 Draw the Line March organizing... 😊

Andrew Welch: Andrew, in the NW Territories (of Toronto) - ecological philosopher. 🤖 (CoViD)

Jean Dougherty: Jean Dougherty, usually in Ottawa. Retired federal government geologist/paleontologist. Longtime member of CACOR.

Richard van der Jagt: Richard van der Jagt, retired clinician researcher in hem/oncology still involved in developing what we hope will become an institute for planetary health and a well-being society

Fernande Faulkner: Fernande Faulkner, worked in the UN system, now living in Vancouver and on Board of CACOR.

David Pollock: David Pollock, retired social justice and environmental activist, former ED with the Pembina Institute and author.

Bob Jones: Bob Jones, Ottawa, retired meteorologist, liaison between CACOR and the Canadian Meteorological and Oceanographic Society (CMOS)

Ted Manning: Ted Manning, Geographer, Sustainable Development specialist, President Tourisk Inc. study international development, full member of the International Club of Rome.

Madeleine Aubrey: Madeleine Aubrey, education, arts, administration, women's issue and perspectives and long time CACOR member.

Art Hunter: Art Hunter, one of several CACOR managers collecting and delivering influence and outreach. 9 year owner of a "burn nothing" microgrid home and electric vehicles.

Jean Dougherty: I do have some comments about what CACOR has tried to do things that might have benefited from working in collaboration.

Andrew Welch: I can pose a question on popular support.

Claude Buettner: Question, do think Roger Hallam's <https://4billiondead.org/> organization, latest effort to create a social movement that grows exponentially, has some nuggets of wisdom for a non-UK audience? His THREE HOUR YouTube monologue lays out a strategy that begins with door knocking where an engaging question is asked (rather than an elevator speech) followed by local meetings and actions; rinse and repeat: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6ZINXPXVrDY> Are today's climate action organizations stepping stones for what comes next?

David Pollock: Thoughts around finding a handful of Suzuki- like younger political candidates and getting them elected as independents pooling and concentrating lobbying resources who might have outsized influence in close elections? Thoughts?

Fernande Faulkner: Great and much awaited presentation.

Claude Buettner: Jean mentioned The Limits To Growth, a FREE PDF copy is available for download by the original publisher, The Club of Rome:
<https://www.clubofrome.org/publication/the-limits-to-growth/>

Letitia Charbonneau: Any advice on how to keep a coalition going when the people do not necessarily stick around because they're students or move cities? How to maintain organizational connections?

Andrew Welch: Interesting chart:Public Opinion Is Moving beyond Growth at Any Cost

Art Hunter: Every Friday CACOR's website archives about 20 contributions made to the climate movement including this presentation for this week. We issue a "Stay Informed" weekly email to those who sign up. Please go to <https://canadiancor.com>

John Hollins: What levels of government does CAN target?

Claude Buettner: Meg, these courses are Free and very well done:
<https://www.publichealth.columbia.edu/research/programs/global-consortium-climate-health-education/courses-trainings>

Letitia Charbonneau: Thanks for taking the time Lauren...